Known to be one of the most articulate speakers in the cricket world, Rahul Dravid was the first non-Australian to deliver the Bradman Oration. His speech received much adulation around the world.

Now, Rahul is keen to share experiences from his long and illustrious cricket career to motivate people from different walks of life. Through his anecdotes, Rahul takes the audience to a state of mind which challenges them to get better at what they do.

He has delivered motivational talks for over 25 big corporate houses and like his batting, he is going from strength to strength and empowering many people on the way.

LESSONS FROM THE GAME

In his speaking engagements, Rahul recollects some of the memorable moments of his cricket career and relates them with his audience. His talks cater to everyone in a company's hierarchy and to its clients too. Some of the key takeaways from his various modules are:

ADAPTING AT HEADINGLEY

India bat first on a tough wicket and Rahul's century helps in setting up an unlikely India win

- The challenge of performing and excelling in tough foreign conditions
- Taking the risk of batting first
- Playing to your strength
- Getting out of your comfort zone

DREAM AT EDEN

After being asked to follow on, India beat the mighty Aussies thanks mainly to an epic partnership between Laxman and Rahul

- Hunger and belief
- One step at a time
- Achieving an unlikely goal

THE FAB FOUR

Sachin, Sourav, Laxman and Rahul form one of the best middle orders ever

- Working in a team
- Defining roles
- Healthy internal competition

WORLD CUP 2007

India suffer a first round exit at the World Cup

- Handling failure
- Taking responsibility
- Bouncing back

CAPTAINCY

Won Test series in England and West Indies; Created a record for most consecutive successful run chases in ODI cricket

- Managing a team of superstars
- Balance between self and team interests
- Clear communication

T20 CRICKET

The ever so patient and technically adept Rahul, encountered a new challenge with the advent of T20 cricket

- Developing new skills and mindset
- Self-belief
- Clarity in thought

RAJASTHAN ROYALS

In 2011 Rahul joined the Rajasthan Royals where a new leadership role beckoned

- Identifying talent and providing opportunities
- Moneyball strategy
- Mentorship – Staying motivated

MODES OF ENGAGEMENT

The client may choose from any of the following:

- Speech

A module is prepared based on the client's requirements or objectives and Rahul delivers a 30-45 minutes speech. This will be followed by a Q&A session with the audience.

- Moderated Discussion

Rahul interacts with a moderator who asks him certain questions through which the audience is engaged.

- Closed Group Session

A module developed solely for the top leadership of the company, Rahul focusses on key aspects of leadership. The size of the audience will be relatively smaller, thus making it a highly interactive session.

- Audio-Visual

A pre-recorded message which is developed exclusively to meet the client's requirements.

RECENT CLIENTS

"Rahul's talk at our flagship event was truly inspirational. His articulation on the success factors which are needed to be ahead in the game - like preparation, perseverance, passion to name a few - resonated well with the audience."

Vanitha Narayanan – Regional GM, IBM India/South Asia

"We were all very impressed at the impact Rahul's stature, demeanour and intelligent articulation made on the evening."

Mr. G.V. Giri, VP - IIFL
